

A nighttime photograph of a cityscape in China. In the foreground, a traditional Chinese pavilion with multiple tiers and ornate roofs sits on a stone bridge over a river. The pavilion is illuminated with warm lights. In the background, modern skyscrapers with glowing windows rise against a dark blue sky. The lights from the buildings and the pavilion reflect on the water's surface.

中國

China - the country of modern and inventions.

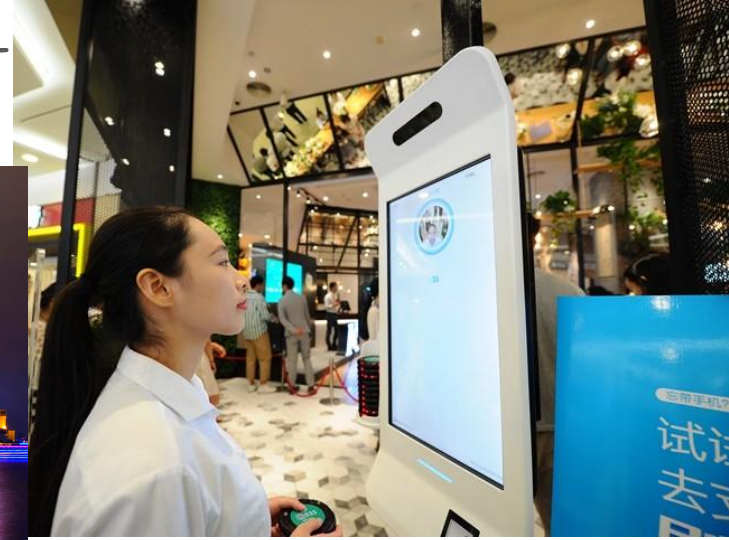

The China's history can have even 5000 years old!!! Chinese people invented a lot of things what are useful or bad today.

Modern China

China is a country of computers, modern, interesting machines or artificial intelligence. That country has got the fastest trains in the world(its speed is about 600 km/h !!!) or artificial intelligence in a lot of places! But you can't use e.x. YouTube there!!!

You can pay with your face there!!! -----

But not only modern!!!

In Chinese villages you can see old China!

The town where we can see old China town is e.x. Pingyao.

My favourite chinese monuments

I think they are very beautiful and awesome!

Look ----->->

The Great Wall of China

It is a very long wall which was built to protect people against enemies. It is 21196 km long!!! The oldest parts of that wall have got even 2000 years old. I think it is beautiful.

Forbidden City

It is the old part of Beijing where the emperors of China lived. Wow! I want to go there!

Buddha from Leshan

It is a very big statue of Buddha. It is 71 meters high!!! Look at the people! They are lower than his toes! Exciting?

My favourite things from chinese culture

1. Chinese architecture

I love Chinese (or Korean, Japanese ) old architecture.

Chinese letters

Chinese is very hard but I like the letters ( in Chinese alphabet
there are a few thousand letters!!!). It is a very old language.
There are about 300
types of the Chinese language in this country!

信 情

Kung Fu

It is very old. The monks in shaolin wanted to defend themselves, so they began training Kung Fu. First of all they wanted to imitate animals!

Chinese nature

An aerial photograph of the Himalayan mountain range, showing numerous snow-capped peaks and ridges. The sky is a clear, deep blue. A large, dark circular overlay is centered on the image, containing text.

Himalayas

They are the highest mountains in the world. Mount everest (Zhūmùlǎngmǎ Fēng) is half in Nepal, but half in China (its top is in China!!!).

Pandas!

These cute animals are living in China! I want to see them!

A scenic view of the Huangshan mountains, featuring steep, rocky peaks and dense green forests. A circular black overlay is centered on the image, containing white text. In the foreground, a stone staircase with a metal railing leads up a rocky slope, with a few hikers visible. The background shows more mountain peaks shrouded in mist or fog.

Huangshan mountains

Look! They are in fog, half with trees, half with stones.

OMG! I want to see them very much!

Some interesting facts about China.

1. Chinese birthday party

When we are in China we don't eat cake for birthday! We eat... noodles!

2. Chinese high rises

When Chinese people are building a high rise, they make a hole so a dragon can fly through! It isn't all! they don't have fourth floors!
